BASKETBALL SUMMARY

The Lion's squad won five and lost fourteen games in their 1949-50 hardwood season. The team, entirely rebuilt from last year, lacked a great deal in size and experience. It wasn't until their fifth game that the Liberty Center five came out on top. They then won four in succession before being downed by the Roanoke Stonewalls. The next game with Lafayette Central put the fifth game for the season in the winning column.

The entire team although they didn't turn in an outstanding record showed a great deal of spirit and teamplay the entire season and losing only four by graduation, have a good outlook next year. Kenneth Hunnicutt, Rex Gregg, Roger Lash, and Max Stanton will be lost by graduation.

One most exciting game was against Jackson when Liberty came out on top at the end of the ninth inning.

"GINGER SNAPS BACK"

Seated: Irene Penrod, Mary Bozell, Yvonne Eckhart, and Virginia Ivins.

The play takes place in a small country town called Fairweather. It is briefly centered around the fact that Ginger Jones wants to become a nurse.

Darwin Luther and his secretary, Oscar Ping, spotted the nice cozy house where Ginger, her mother, Mrs. Jones, and sister Roberta live. Luther decided to stay there as a patient to avoid Cynthia Roberts, who is a designing female.

The climax takes place in the Jones home and is really exciting when Darwin and Smoky dress up as ladies so Dr. Bottleneck won't recognize them. It proves to be quite funny when Praline and Opal Dome take the scene as a couple of club ladies.

The curtain falls as Darwin and Ginger fall in love.

Peggy Penrod, Hazel Poulson, Dean Houtz, Martha Wentz, Carmie Collins, Richard Gephart, Marjorie Hunnicutt, Wanda Rennaker, Gracie Maggard, and Donna Maggart.

The story takes place on an Oklahoma farm in the home of Mrs. Rosa Perry, a widow. Mr. Merridew, a crooked speculator, is trying to buy her farm. Gladys, who is a city lady, is chased by a cow! Sis Riggs hits the cow with a stone; then it chases her. She bumps Merridew, and the feud is started from then until the end of the play.

Mrs. Berry finally sells her farm and moves to the city, believing that there is oil on her farm, but there isn't. Merridew demands his money back but is arrested by Clarence, the mysterious young man. It turns out that Aaron is the one who dumped oil in the old spring. The Girl in Red plays an important part in the way the whole play turns out. It turns out happy as the widow and Aaron are getting married and taking Sis back to Oklahoma with them.

"BIG DAY"

The story is centered around Jane Jackson, the daughter of a wealthy family, who lost her parents at the age of three. After their death, she was sent to the "Retreat" which was a home her father had founded. She was to be in Mrs. DeSmyth's tender care until she reached the age of twenty-one; then the inheritance and management of the home was to be hers. Mrs. DeSmyth, because of a few debts, tries to keep the inheritance from Jane for another year, but is foiled by Jane's Aunt, Mrs. A. Turney.

Finally Mrs. DeSmyth leaves the Retreat and visits her brother in Australia, and the management of the Retreat was successfully turned over to Jane.

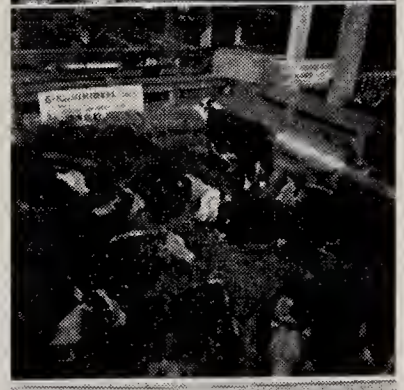
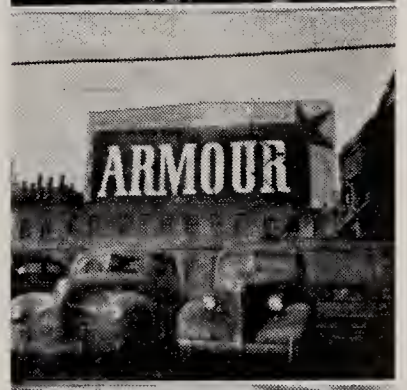
While on their three day trip, the boys stayed at the Lorraine Hotel.

The pictures are some they took while on the trip.





CAMERA CLUB

Everett Elliott, Marjorie Hunnicutt, Mary Bozell, Mr. Bugher, Dean Houtz, Wanda Rennaker, and Phillip Cunningham.

In November of 1949 a group of students became interested in forming a camera club in order that they might become more proficient in photography.

Mr. Bugher, who has followed photography as a hobby, was prevailed upon to sponsor this group and teach them the process of picture making.

A dark room was fitted into a small supply room and much equipment was bought to be used by the club.

The facilities available to the camera fan members consist of a 4x5 Crown Graphic Camera, Federal 4x5 Enlarger, General Electric Light Meter, and the necessary equipment for complete darkroom processing. In the future, we hope to buy a print dryer and reducing lens to make the dark room process more rapid.

Most of the above facilities were made available by the senior classes of 1948-49 and 50 to help make picture taking and processing a more enjoyable procedure. Trick photography should make a very interesting page or two in the future annuals of L. C. H. S.

RADIO CLUB

During the summer of 1949, the Liberty Center Radio Club was organized and soon there after was granted a license from the Federal Communication Commission to operate an Amateur Radio Station with Richard Stroud as the trustee of the station. The call letters for the L. C. Radio Club are W9HWR.

After receiving the license, the transmitter was built by Richard Stroud. The equipment or parts used to make the transmitter are largely war surplus items; hence, the cost was held to a minimum amount. Additional equipment was given to the school by Richard Stroud, Robert Armstrong, and Dan Aldred. The only equipment completely new is the receiver, which is a Hallicrafters S-40A.

A lot of time was spent before the transmitter and antenna system were properly matched, but then results began to happen. For the first time, several students experienced broadcasting and found a great thrill in talking with people up to several thousand miles distance away from our location in the high school. We have talked to amateurs all over the United States and including the countries of France, England, South Wales, Canada, and Puerto Rico.

The list is continually growing longer as time moves on and in the future, we hope to have a schedule with some of the foreign countries.

The club meets every two weeks and as a part of the activity, receivers for short wave reception have been built; in order that the members may listen to the school making its contacts. Code practice and radio theory are also a part of each meeting's activity. Dues are contributed by the members to purchase small tools and equipment for general construction work.

The sponsor and members of the club wish to express their appreciation for the work and use of the equipment made possible by Richard Stroud.

SENIOR TRIP

On May 6, 1950 the seniors, along with the Lancaster Central seniors, left on a seven day trip to Washington, D. C. and New York City. Traveling the Pennsylvania Turnpike, seeing the Gettysburg battle field, Congress in session, the White House, Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, going on an all day guided tour of New York City and many other things of great interest were enjoyed by all.
